Magnes® is an interlocking, innovative magnetic flooring system that is designed to be directly magnetically bonded to an access floor system.

Healthy, natural and easy to maintain, Magnes® timber panels epitomize the luxury of natural timber floors whilst allowing the functionality of an access floor with 100% underfloor accessibility.

The interlocking timber planks are finished with a magnetic backing so that are able to be quickly and efficiently installed directly over your steel cementitious access floor system. The surface is immediately usable after installation.

The Magnes® range is also an environmentally friendly option as it's not only more energy efficient than other surfaces but also uses less energy during production.

The Magnes® Colour Hub is a great starting point to choosing the best finish for your design. However, if you are looking for something different, we are happy to work with you to design a specifically designed panel for your project.
